Registration is going on now in the Adult Services Department.

Why do we hang onto certain papers, wardrobes in different sizes, broken appliances, newspapers and magazines we have not read, and sentimental items that we feel are part of our history? All these things can add to the clutter and disorganization in our homes and lives. Join us for a dynamic program that focuses on why certain kinds of clutter stick to us "emotionally".

Judi Culbertson, experienced lecturer and de-cluttering expert, will present techniques on how to handle specific types of clutter, as well as offer advice on room-to-room de-cluttering with her "Inventory Technique". Judi will also discuss how discarding outdated stuff will help make room for new and better things to come in your home and life, and how some belongings can actually be sabotaging your goals. There is no fee for this program.
