Books in Every Home

The library outreach staff members at local fairs and events are ALWAYS giving away children's books. Why? Research shows that having a home library of books strongly correlates to a child's academic success. In fact, children whose families had more books at home were 19% more likely to graduate from college. Since 2010 we've given away more than 5,000 free books to area families, no questions asked. Strong communities support student achievement! Want to help our ongoing book giveaway effort? Click on "Ways to Give" at www.communitylibrary.org and donate online. ■
