Community Storybook Forest

Stories are often set in forests: Little Red Riding Hood, Hansel and Gretel, the Forbidden Forest in the Harry Potter books, to name only three. There are few things more magical than a forest on a winter's night, lit only by stars. Experience the magic of stories, trees and lights with a visit to our Community Storybook Forest on the main floor of the library, open from Monday, January 11, through the end of the month.

Community groups will decorate a tree (supplied by the library, along with lights) based on a favorite children's book. Displayed together and lit by white lights, the forest will be a wonderland that celebrates community, stories and winter. If your family or group is interested in decorating a tree, contact Lyn Stirber at 399-1511, ext. 205, before Monday, January 4, with the title of the book you have chosen. The Very Hungry Caterpillar, The Wizard of Oz, Pete the Cat, The Lion, The Witch and the Wardrobe...? ■
